AXA Equitable Becomes ASBO International's First Strategic Partner

Reston, VA—September 15, 2008—The Association of School Business Officials International (ASBO) is pleased to announce that AXA Equitable Life Insurance Company has signed on as the association's first-ever strategic partner, paving a path for success for ASBO and AXA Equitable.

As one of the nation's foremost providers of retirement products and services, AXA Equitable has a long history of working closely with school business officials. AXA Equitable's dedication to our profession, and excellence there-in, is clearly demonstrated through its sponsorship of ASBO's Eagle Awards and the Eagle Institute.

"We are excited to welcome AXA Equitable as our first strategic partner," said John Musso, Executive Director, ASBO International. "Both AXA Equitable and ASBO believe in the work of school business officials, work that supports students and communities. Together, we will continue to strive to support the profession."

ASBO's new strategic partner platform allows companies to strengthen their commitment to the school business community—the highest level of partnership available to industry partners.
